

ID de Contribution: 340

Type: Non spécifié

Lecture HSS 2 - Understanding consumer acceptance of green innovations

mercredi 20 mai 2026 10:35 (1h 25m)

Research examines how psychological and behavioral variables influence the acceptance of green innovations in contexts where environmental responsibility conflicts with established consumption practices. It highlights the role of values and air travel behavior in shaping individuals' willingness to support sustainable technologies, extending existing research beyond purely economic or technological determinants.

Orateur: LAURENT, Sara (Montpellier Business School)